

AV200 Thank You

Dear Friend,

Thank you! Thank you for supporting my AIDS Vaccine 200 (AV200) bike ride and for recognizing the importance of the fight against AIDS. Your generous donation will help Action Cycling Atlanta (ACA), AV200's parent organization raise awareness and funding for HIV/AIDS vaccine research that will one day eradicate the disease and support Atlanta area AIDS service doing critical work around treatment, prevention, education, and advocacy. And 100% of every rider's dollar goes directly to the beneficiaries thanks to the generosity of our corporate sponsors.

If you want to follow my progress, you can check my personal page at any time to see how close I am to achieving my fundraising goal. You can also follow links from that page to learn more about the event, and how you can get involved as a volunteer or a participant at actioncyclingatl.org.

Also, if you want to share some of the sobering information about HIV/AIDS, please visit here actioncyclingatl.org/about/the-cause/ to get some facts and share on your social media channels and be an even bigger part of the solution.

Please come join me and all AV200 riders at 4:00 on Sunday, May 21 when we arrive back at Emory University College of Medicine to celebrate the ride weekend. I know we are making a difference together!

Thanks again for your support.
